Potential papers:

OpenfMRI <https://www.openfmri.org/> is a good resources for publicly-available fMRI datasets. Here is a list of potential papers and suggested topics:

- Haxby et al. (2001): Faces and Objects in Ventral Temporal Cortex (fMRI)
use the data set to show regions more involved in face processing versus scenes/ object processing - check that this about the region that was used to predict the condition in this paper
